HOME for butterflies

Many of our neighbors are supporting 'urban' farming.

But if tending to chickens or bees aren't for you, how about butterflies?

A monarch butterfly researcher from the University of Georgia is looking locations in Savannah with butterfly gardens. Ideally, they are interested in (non-destructively) sampling monarchs in gardens with about 40+ tropical milkweed plants in Chatham County. If you are interested, call Dara at 770-584-4965.

Neighborhood News

You are invited to come and hear an update on the progression of Savannah Gardens. This includes an update on the status of neighborhood retail being considered for Savannah Gardens.

Gordonston Garden Club News

It is the most glorious time of year for gardeners, and the Gordonston Garden Club has some exciting programs coming up! On March 24th, Iris expert Stan Gray, whose experimental Iris garden at the Coastal Garden and Bamboo Farm has offered ongoing inspiration and knowledge for local gardeners, will join us to discuss his experiences, successes, failures, and upcoming trials. Then, on April 21, we will learn all about the process of backyard composting from Master Composter Kate Zidar. And finally, we will end our spring sessions with a field trip in May to the 75th Annual Swamp Iris Festival in Sumter, SC. Please make plans to join us.

Gordonston Crime Prevention

The next neighborhood watch meeting is March 25 at 6:30 p.m. at the cottage. April 15 at 6 p.m. is the quarterly potluck. Please bring a covered dish to this informative meeting.

Block captains have been identified for most streets. To see who your captain is or volunteer to help, contact Gene Maria at 912-231-9477.

In all cases, neighbors are reminded to call 911 for any suspicious activity and allow law enforcement to handle the situation.
